STATE LIBRARY TO GIVE TOURS PRIOR TO SCLA CONVENTION

The South Carolina State Library is inviting early arrivals to the SCLA convention to tour the State Library and the Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Tours will be given until 1 p.m. on October 9. The State Library is located at 1500 Senate Street, a short walk from the Carolina Inn. The Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped is located at 700 Knox Abbott Drive (continuation of Blossom Street) in Cayce, about two miles from the Carolina Inn.

FILM NEWS

The South Carolina State Library will begin issuing a new newsletter in August, 1980. It will deal mainly with 16mm films and 30mm filmstrips. New acquisitions and programming will be discussed regularly. The newsletter, titled "A-V Scene," will be issued quarterly in August, November, February and May.

A completely revised catalog of 16mm films will be available from the South Carolina State Library in August. It will automatically be sent to those libraries participating in the State Library's film program. Films in this program are available only to county public and state institutional libraries for library and library-sponsored film programs. Films may only be shown by library staff members who have been certified by the State Library as qualified projectionists.

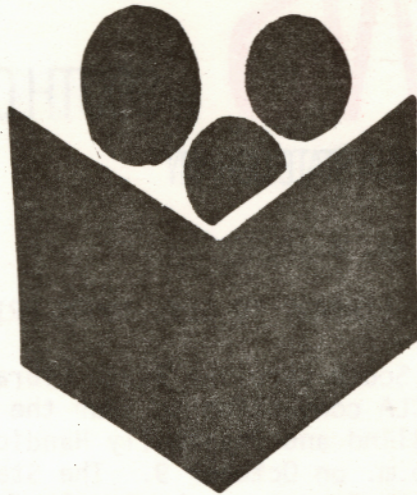

LSCA ADVISORY COUNCIL

New members to the S. C. Library Services and Construction Act Advisory Council have recently been named. The following persons will join the Council on October 1, 1980: Kathleen S. Britton, a member of the Friends of the Florence County Library; Frankie H. Cubbedge, Librarian, USC-Aiken; Alan S. Krech, South Carolina Commission on Higher Education; Hugh Rogers, Library Trustee, Lexington County Library; Austin M. Sheheen, Jr., Chairman, Kershaw County Council; Dr. F. William Summers, USC, College of Librarianship.

FOCUS ON SERVING CHILDREN

From the Desk of the Field Service Librarian for Children's Services:

SHARE A BOOK WITH A CHILD

Materials for the Share a Book With a Child campaign have arrived and will be distributed at the August 13 administrators' meeting. The book bags are not yet here, but we expect to have them at that time as well. In addition to the brochures, bumper stickers, small stickers and posters previously mentioned, you will also receive a small number of brochures aimed at visually and hearing-disabled parents and children. We will also be distributing these through some appropriate state agencies and organizations.

Last Tuesday a television spot was filmed at the Governor's Mansion with Mrs. Richard Riley speaking out for reading to children. Appearing with her in the spot were our Deputy Director, Jim Johnson's daughter, Kirsten, and DeWayne Pearson, son of Richland County Public Library's staffer, Wanda Pearson. The rough tapes looked great, and it should be an effective public service announcement. The spot will also be interpreted for the deaf. We also have radio spots done by Joanne Woodward and Rev. Jesse Jackson. Contrary to what I said in the campaign booklet, we will be sending the spots directly to the stations because of time.

I am beginning to hear about activities planned throughout the state in conjunction with the campaign. Greenville County Library will be featuring it at a shopping mall exhibit. Florence County Library is planning story times at a mall as well as a Sunday afternoon series for parents on children's books and reading.

We hope you will be enthusiastic in promoting this campaign. There are sufficient bumper stickers to place on one out of every fifty cars in the state. That doesn't sound like many, but if you think how many cars most people pass by in a day, you can see that the message could have quite an impact if stickers get out and onto cars. The State Library will be doing one general news release, but local publicity is really up to you. Try to think how you can get newspaper and other media coverage to show how your library is getting actively involved in promoting reading to children.

By working together this campaign can be an excellent stimulus to reading to children as well as showing how the library is at the center of family reading.

TODDLER STORY TIMES

Children's librarians considering story times for 2-year-olds may want to read Bonnie S. Fowler's "Toddlers' Storytime" in North Carolina Libraries, vol. 38, Summer 1980, pp. 21-24. This article discusses Forsyth County Library's experiences, children's reactions, and concludes with a short list of suggested titles for programs.

SCOUTING AND PUBLIC LIBRARIES

In 1979 the Harford County Library in Maryland prepared a brochure for the Boy Scouts of America Advisory Committee of ALSC/ALA on "How a Public Library can Sponsor a Boy Scout Merit Badge". If any library would like a photocopy of this brochure, you can request it from the State Library. A slide-tape on merit badge programs in libraries can also be borrowed free of charge from James Massey, Harford County Library, 100 Pennsylvania Avenue, Bel Air, Maryland 21014.

Libraries may also wish to update their collections of Boy Scouts materials. A merit badge series of pamphlets can provide good and inexpensive supplemental subject coverage of many high-interest topics as well as meeting the needs of scouts in your community. You can request the 1980/81 catalog from Boy Scouts of America, Supply Division, P. O. Box 61030, Dallas/Fort Worth Airport, Texas 75261.

STORY HOURS IN KINGSTREE

Juleigh Clark, Williamsburg County Library Director, reports the story hours she began this summer are very popular with Kingstree's four and five year-old set. Response has been good to this first series of films and stories with both children and librarians enjoying the new experience.

PROGRAMMING IDEAS

The New Hampshire State Library has recently published a book of ideas for programs and displays. Written by Judith Kimball, Children's Specialist at the New Hampshire State Library, the book is available for $3.00 from: New Hampshire State Library, Administration Division, 20 Park Street, Concord, New Hampshire 03301.

CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK

Children's Book Week, 1980 will be November 17 to 23. This year's theme is Books Alive! Posters and other promotional materials are available from the Children's Book Council, 67 Irving Place, New York, New York 10003. This year's Children's Book Week will be a good opportunity to reinforce the idea behind the Share a Book With a Child campaign.

The South Carolina State Library recently distributed certificates of appreciation to seven members of the Telephone Pioneers of America for their voluntary service in repairing talking book machines.

TECHNICAL COLLEGE OFFERS PUBLIC INFORMATION VIA TELEPHONE

The Learning Resources Division at Trident Technical College, Charleston, is now offering TEC TALK, a dial-access public information system. TEC TALK contains over 400 tapes on a wide variety of subjects. Information is provided on student interests, such as admissions/registration, curriculum, fees, facilities, etc. Dictation tapes are available for those taking shorthand in secretarial science. "Career Capsules" describe 150 different career options for those who are undecided in their plans. For the general public, consumer information, emergency services, and safety tips are subjects much in demand. Trident TEC reports increasing use of this service, presently averaging over 2300 calls per month.

SELA OFFICERS

The following librarians were elected new officers of the Southeastern Library Association: Barratt Wilkins, State Librarian at Florida, Vice-President, President-Elect; Joseph Boykin, Director of the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, Secretary; and Annette Phinazee, Dean of the School of Library Science, North Carolina Central University, Treasurer. Kenneth Toombs, Director of USC-Libraries, was recently elected as the South Carolina Library Association's representative to SELA.

SOUTHEAST ART LIBRARIANS TO MEET

The sixth annual meeting of the Southeast Chapter of the Art Library Society of North America will be held at the Greenville County Library on November 7-8, 1980. Stephen Patrick, Documents Librarian at the Greenville Library, is currently serving as the 1980 Vice-Chairman/Chairman Elect and Program Chairman of the chapter. The program will include visits to the Greenville County Museum of Art, the Bob Jones University Art Museum, and the Biltmore House and Gardens. For further information contact: Stephen Allan Patrick, ARLIS/SE, Documents Librarian, Greenville County Library, 300 College Street, Greenville, South Carolina 29601.

NEW GPO STANDING ORDER SERVICE

The U. S. Government Printing Office announced a new program effective June 1 through which customers can automatically receive titles which are issued on a recurring basis (such as annually), or as volumes in a particular series (such as the U. S. Code), or on a "when published" basis. To use the service a customer must authorize payment for the publications through a prepaid GPO Deposit Account, or through Master Charge or Visa. A GPO form 3468, "Authorization for Standing Order Service", must be completed for each item. For information, contact Department 40, Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402, or telephone Donald Quaid, Chief, Sales Media Branch, 202-275-3314.

The South Carolina State Library is interested in disposing of individual county maps from the Mills Atlas. Only selected counties are available. These include: Chester, Chesterfield, Marion, Spartanburg, Sumter, Union, Williamsburg, Laurens, Lancaster, Lexington, Marlboro, Georgetown, Horry, Kershaw, York, Richland, Barnwell, Newberry, Abbeville, and Darlington. Maps are suitable for framing. Interested libraries should contact Betty E. Callahan, State Librarian.

LIBRARY PUBLICATIONS

The York County Library has produced a 48-page book entitled "Program Suggestions." The volume is designed basically for use by community clubs and organizations in the preparation of year-long programs around a certain theme. The eight themes of the first edition are: Carolina Folklore, Down the garden path (famous South Carolina and American gardens), needle craft (Through the eye of the needle), photography (One picture is worth a thousand words), novels into movies, media personalities, traveling the British Isles, and alternative housing (solar, underground, log cabins, etc.). The themes are done in chapter form, with an introduction to the subject, followed by a selected booklist, available State Library films, pertinent and current magazine articles, in addition to suggestions for implementation of the theme. The book will be distributed to about 150 area clubs as well as being available for use in all library locations. South Carolina libraries who would like to review a copy (which would have to be returned) should contact Ann Terry, Community Services Librarian, York County Library. The book will also be on display at the Public Libraries Section of SCLA "Swap 'n' Shop" during the annual convention.

SHOW OFF YOUR LIBRARY'S ART

The Public Libraries Section of the South Carolina Library Association will be sponsoring a public relations "Swap 'n' Shop" on Friday, October 9 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the convention area of the annual conference. All libraries throughout the state are encouraged to submit printed materials they have produced to promote their library services, programs, and special collections. All submitted items will be displayed and available for distribution and pick-up during the noted hours.

Although quantities of materials numbering at least 100 are desirable, any reasonable quantity of your printed matter will be accepted. Try to send quantities of the pieces of which you are extremely proud and/or which you feel have met a real need for your patrons and community. Items might include booklists, newsletters, library brochures and program flyers. All materials should arrive no later than October 1 to the following exact address: Ann Scott Terry, York County Library, P. O. Box 10032, Rock Hill, South Carolina 29730, HOLD FOR: SCLA CONVENTION.

If you have special audio-visual promotional materials such as radio or TV spots or slide shows which you would like to have others view, please contact Mrs. Terry at 328-8402 as soon as possible, and arrangements for display of these items will be attempted.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

Berkeley County: The Library presented two programs in June and July concerning wild flowers of the state and historic South Carolina buildings.

Charleston County: During July, the main library was closed to allow for re-tiling of the floors. Branch libraries and bookmobiles operated on their regular schedules.

Chester County: Special exhibits on display at the library during June included woven items produced on hand-made looms and photographs of early Chester from the library's Caroliniana collection.

Florence County: The Library displayed information on state parks during July. Posters and brochures on local and state parks were furnished by the South Carolina State Parks Publicity Division. Camping equipment was borrowed from Sears, Roebuck, and Company. A small reference room has been added to the Timmonsville Branch Library. Beginning on July 1, all branch libraries began operating 30 hours per week.

Greenville County: The planning committee of the Greenville County Council has recommended to the full council approval for matching funds to purchase an automated circulation system for the library. The library plans to request a $150,000 grant from the Greenville County Foundation to assist in installation of the system. The library added its newest branch in the form of the Greenville Court Library on July 1. The Court Library, located in the Greenville County Courthouse will be operated as part of the library's Business, Science and Local Information Section. A debate concerning nuclear energy was held at the Greenville County Library on July 16. Over 200 attended the Sierra Club-sponsored debate which featured speakers representing both sides of the issue. In conjunction with the debate, the library prepared an exhibit in the vestibule case.

Horry County: During August, three library branches will show exhibits organized by the South Carolina Museum Commission. These include natural history prints, likenesses of John C. Calhoun, and Albert Einstein, 1879-1979.

Marion County: Library representatives were interviewed on WBTW-TV (Florence) for the nightly news broadcast on July 15.

Richland County: The Adult Services Division taped four radio spots to be used on WQXL's "Senior Scene". Displays at the library were built around the theme of the American Revolution. Revolutionary war artifacts, books, and military miniatures were exhibited.

Spartanburg County: The Landrum Branch has begun an educational toy lending library to contribute to the development of pre-school children. The project is being funded by the "Children with Teachers at Home" program through a grant from the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation. A special program to introduce interested persons to the new collection was held on July 13.

Sumter County: The library recently established a collection of books for adults with reading disabilities. Approximately 1,000 volumes written in simple, easy-to-read styles are now available for circulation.

York County: The library is loaning Super 8mm and 16mm film projectors to adult library card holders. The library, which also loans Super 8 films, requires reservations for the projectors.

FEDERAL FUNDING STATUS

The following information on Federal funding of library programs was current as of the end of July.

Higher Education Act Extension: House-Senate conferees on HR 5192, the Higher Education Act Extension bill, has been meeting to resolve differences between the two versions, but have not yet completed work. Decisions reached so far on Title II library programs include acceptance of the House amendments to II-A (raising the college library basic grant authorization to $10,000) and II-B (expanding II-B to a three-part program of library training, research, and demonstration and special purpose of grants). Both versions continue the II-C research library program unchanged. Conferees agreed to the Senate version of II-D, which would authorize a National Periodical System Corporation to design a system which would require congressional approval before implementation. Conferees also retained the trigger provision from the House version which means that funds for the periodical system study could not be appropriated unless the other Title II programs were funded at FY 1979 levels -- that is, $9.95 million for II-A, $3 million for II-B, and $6 million for II-C. Still unresolved is the question of authorization levels for the existing Title II programs. House and Senate levels are compared in the table below:

	House Authorizations	Senate Authorizations
HEA II-A	$60 million per year	$10.5 to 18.2 million over 5 years
HEA II-B	$60 million per year	$ 4.5 to 7.8 million over 5 years
HEA II-C	$20 million per year	$ 8 to 14 million over 5 years

Appropriations, FY 1981 -- Library of Congress: On July 21, the House passed HR 7593, the Legislative Branch Appropriations Bill for FY 1981 (LC Budget) after agreeing to a two percent across-the-board cut. The Library of Congress requested $196,526,000; the House-passed bill would provide $176,844,000, $4.4 million less than the FY 1980 funding level of $181,264,000. Because most legislative branch obligations are mandated by law and therefore exempted from the two percent cut, it will fall hardest on agencies like the Library of Congress. The Senate Legislative Appropriations Subcommittee will probably not act on this bill until after the Democratic Convention, which should give library supporters at least until August 17, perhaps longer, to contact subcommittee members.

Appropriations, FY 1981 -- Government Printing Office: The two percent cut in the Legislative Appropriations Bill (HR 7593) described above will also affect the Government Printing Office. The budget request for GPO's Superintendent of Documents for FY 1981 was $26.2 million. The House-passed bill would take the funding level below the FY 1980 amount of $23 million.

Appropriations, FY 1981: The House Labor-HEW Appropriations Subcommittee has not yet made its recommendations on library and education funding for FY 1981. This leaves more time for library supporters to make their views known. There is serious concern in Congress about the ability of the library communities to support funding for the Higher Education Act Title II programs especially.

ALA RESOLUTION ON S.2859

On July 3 at the New York Conference, the American Library Association Council passed a resolution supporting the concepts of the National Library and Information Services Act (S.2859). S.2859 was introduced by Senator Jacob Javits on June 20, 1980 as a replacement for the Library Services and Construction Act. The resolution also recommended public hearings on the proposed bill and urged ALA members to make their views known at such hearings.

Seton Name Plates Corporation offers a complete line of handicapped symbols of access signs, braille/tactile identification markers and signs, and decals, labels, and plaques for indicating accessibility. All products are designed to meet the requirements of both Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and ANSI standards. The company's catalogs are available from Seton Name Plates Corporation, 592 Boulevard, New Haven, Connecticut 06505, phone: 203-772-2520.

PRE-CONFERENCE ON PUBLIC LIBRARY PLANNING

The Public Library Association will present a workshop prior to the Southeastern Library Association Conference on "Introduction to A Planning Process for Public Libraries." The pre-conference will be held at the Hyatt Birmingham Hotel in Birmingham, Alabama on November 18-19, 1980. The conference is intended to introduce the planning process to state library agency personnel and to public libraries where there is an interest in implementing the process. During the conference, the planning process manual (which will be mailed to participants prior to the pre-conference) will be reviewed and clarified. Speakers at the conference will include Dr. F. William Summers, Dean, College of Librarianship, University of South Carolina; Ella Yates, Director of the Atlanta Public Library; Ann Prentice, Dean, Graduate School of Library and Information Science, University of Tennessee; Virginia Grigg, Head of Library Development, Florida State Library; Emily Payne, Director, Tri-County Regional Library in Rome, Georgia; Ronald Kozlowski, Director, Louisville Free Public Library; and Glenn Miller, Director, Orlando Public Library.

Registration will be limited to 100, with priority given to members of the Public Library Association who register before September 1. Registration should be mailed by November 1 to: ALA/Public Library Association, PLA/SELA Pre-Conference, 50 East Huron Street, Chicago, Illinois 60611. Registration fees are $75 for PLA members, $95 for ALA or SELA members, and $125 for others.

GRANTS FOR PUBLIC LIBRARIANS AND LIBRARY TRUSTEES TO ATTEND SELA CONFERENCE

The South Carolina State Library will award four grants of up to $400 each to two public library administrators and two library trustees to attend the Southeastern Library Association Conference to be held in Birmingham, November 20-22, 1980. Librarian recipients will be expected to attend the pre-conference, "The Planning Process for Public Libraries." (see report above) On Friday, November 21, there will be a day of workshops for the Trustee and Friends of the Library Section: "Who Runs Your Library?" and "The State Role in Library Funding." Trustees may elect to use the grant to attend either the pre-conference or the conference and workshop.

Recipients will be required to report on and evaluate the workshops. The planning process is intended to enable local public libraries to establish their own goals and objectives. Following the Birmingham workshop, a decision will be made as to whether to conduct a statewide workshop on the planning process for South Carolina librarians.

Administrators and trustees who wish to apply for a grant should write to Alice Nolte at the State Library informing her of their interest by August 20. Grant recipients will be reimbursed for actual expenses up to $400, including transportation, registration, hotel and meals. If applications exceed the number available, priority will be given to those who can demonstrate the greatest need for financial assistance.

TELEPHONE PROBLEMS

The South Carolina State Library was recently notified by the South Carolina Division of General Services concerning problems about incoming calls to state government agencies. Apparently the present switching unit is being worked to its full capacity, causing long delays in service. The Division is planning to change to a computerized switching system which will allow better service in February 1981. Public libraries who have experienced difficulties in telephoning their interlibrary loan requests in to the State Library should be aware of the cause of their problems and are asked to have patience.

NEWS OF TRUSTEES AND FRIENDS GROUPS

Re-elected as officers to the Abbeville-Greenwood Regional Library for the 1980-81 year are Edgar Davis, Chairman; Fletcher Ferguson, Vice-Chairman; Mrs. Pearl Stevenson, Secretary; and Dr. William Rice, Treasurer.

Mrs. Mamie Coker was recently appointed to the Laurens County Library Board.

The Friends of the North Myrtle Beach Library have received commitments in the amount of $80,000 toward a project to construct a library building in the North Myrtle Beach area. The Horry County Council has allocated $45,000 to the building fund, and the North Myrtle Beach City Council has committed $35,000. The Joyner-Tilghman families of North Myrtle Beach have donated a site for the building. The Friends are currently planning a flea market to be held in August at a local shopping mall to raise funds.

Mrs. Ruth J. Hope and Julius W. McKay have been appointed to the Richland County Public Library Board of Trustees.

The USC College of Librarianship is exhibiting samples of printing from the college's printing course at the McKissick Museum from July 11 to August 11. A reception to recognize persons whose work is included in the exhibit was held on July 31.

SCLA AND SELA CONFERENCES OFFER PROGRAMS FOR TRUSTEES

The Trustees and Friends of the Library Section of the Southeastern Library Association will sponsor a day-long program for trustees and friends at the SELA Conference in Birmingham, Alabama on November 21. During the morning, two concurrent workshops will be held for each group, entitled "Who Runs Your Library?" covering support, lobbying and budget. A joint luncheon will be held, followed by an additional workshop in the afternoon. "The State Role in Library Funding and Development" will be the topic of the trustee's afternoon session, featuring a panel of three state library directors. The afternoon workshop for the Friends will break down into four sections: friends as library promoters, bond issues - how to's, newsletters and cultural programs, and why friends? An early evening reception jointly hosted by the Alabama Trustees and Friends of the Library and Anthony Miele, Director of the Alabama Public Library Service, will round out the day's activities.

Trustee activities will also be highlighted during the South Carolina Library Association convention to be held in Columbia. On Saturday, October 11, 1980, the morning general session will feature Virginia Young, author of The Library Trustee: A Practical Guidebook.

BEST WISHES

To Mr. & Mrs. Ray Purdy, who were married on June 20. Mrs. Purdy, formerly Dianne Batchelor, is the McCormick County Librarian.

To Norma Lightsey and Gayle Stimson who recently announced their engagement. Miss Lightsey is the Assistant Director, Extension Division, Greenville County Library. The couple plans a wedding for late August. Miss Lightsey will be moving to Yoakum, Texas, following the wedding.

GET WELL WISHES

Marion Mangion, Business and Reference Librarian, Richland County Library, has been hospitalized with a serious illness since May. Her husband, Vin Mangion, reports that her recovery will take a long time, but that she is showing steady progress. Cards may be mailed to Mrs. Mangion at the Baptist Hospital, Taylor and Marion Streets, Room 727, Columbia, South Carolina 29201.

SYMPATHY

To the family of Mrs. John Schriener Reynolds, former State Librarian, who died on July 3. Mrs. Reynolds served as Librarian of the former State (Legislative) Library from 1956 to 1965. Prior to that, she was Clerk on the South Carolina State Senate Desk from 1938-1955.

GIFTS

Mrs. William Gist Finley of York donated a collection of papers dating from 1763 to 1968 to the Winthrop College Archives. The collection which originally belonged to the late Elizabeth Finley Moore contains papers pertaining to the oldest families in York County. An anonymous donation of $1,000 was used by the library recently to purchase a collection of medical reference books.

The Burroughs and Collins Company has donated a collection of approximately 5,000 volumes to the Coastal Carolina College. The company has been instrumental in the development of Horry County since the 1840's. The collection contains much historical information on social and economic conditions of the area.

The Self Foundation of Greenwood recently donated $2,100 to the Calhoun Falls Library building fund. This is the second grant that the foundation has made to this project.
